FlexITy's Chief Architect for FlexCLOUD Becomes One of the First to Achieve Coveted Cisco BATP Certification

RICHMOND HILL, ON (September 16, 2011) – FlexITy, an award winning enterprise provider of Cloud Solutions, Unified Communications, Data Centre Technologies and Managed Services, bolstered its engineering certifications following the successful achievement by Nolan Evans, who became one of the first to be awarded the Business Architect certification in the Cisco Global Business Architect Transformation Program.

The Cisco Business Architect Transformation Program incorporates a toolbox of models, methods, processes, frameworks, and templates creating a repeatable, systematic approach to analyzing customer business requirements, defining business value, and implementing business-relevant architectural solutions. The program provides a dynamic learning experience through coaching and mentoring in real world environments.

"We designed the Business Architect Transformation Program as a unique, innovative, and rigorous course of study and we congratulate Mr. Evans and FlexITy Solutions on his distinguished achievement." stated Michael K. Fox, Global Knowledge Sr. Vice President, Enterprise Solutions and Product Management.

By successfully completing the final program assessment, Nolan has demonstrated skills in the following areas:

- Enterprise Business Architecture
- Business Analysis
- Business Process Consulting
- Advanced Consulting Skills

"We are delighted that Nolan has successfully completed Cisco's Business Architect Transformation Program. The knowledge gained will enhance our ability to support our customers by strategically aligning technical solutions with their business needs and processes." said Peter Stavropoulos, FlexITy's Chief Executive Officer.

"Cisco congratulates Nolan Evans on completing the Business Architect Transformation Program and graduating as one of the first Business Architects. This is an important step in the development of Cisco solutions knowledge and provides the analytical and business transformational skills today's market demands." said Andres Sintes, Global Director, Cisco's Learning Partner Channel.
